

Nuffield Department of Clinical Neurosciences
Undergraduate Education Away Day

Friday, March 20, 2020

09:00-15:15

St Anne's College

Objectives

- Strengthen relationships amongst teaching team
- Understand the rationale and power of integrating neurology with psychiatry in undergraduate medical education
- Recognise the importance of student participation in clinical placements and the value of work-based assessments
- Demonstrate awareness of the core concepts of professionalism as outlined in the Royal College of Physicians' blueprint entitled 'Advancing Medical Professionalism'
- Appreciate the role of humanities in developing medical professionalism and diversifying the undergraduate medical curriculum

Programme

08:45	Registration &amp; Refreshments
09:00-09:10	Introduction to the day Kevin Talbot/John Geddes/Gabe De Luca/Kate Saunders
09:10-09:30	Vision for the Medical School Catherine Swales
09:30-10:00	The wall between neurology and psychiatry: time to break it down? Belinda Lennox
10:00-10:15	Refreshments and Discussion
10:15-11:00	Brain & Behaviour Course Overview (novel integrated neurology/psychiatry Year 5 course)
11:00-12:30	Student Involvement in Clinical Practice: Work-Based Assessments in Undergraduate Medical Education – Opportunities and Challenges
12:30-13:30	Lunch
13:30-14:00	Advancing Medical Professionalism: Integrating Humanities into the Core Curriculum
14:00-15:00	Medical Professionalism in Practice – Small group activity
15:00	Round-up and take home points
15:15	Adjourn